23 VIDEOTAPED DEPOSITION OF STEVEN P. FEINSTEIN, PhD
24 FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 10, 2023

[PAGES INTENTIONALLY OMITTED]

1 should have known, according to plaintiffs, that 2 these numbers were too high. Exactly how low it
3 had to go, I don't -- I don't know for sure, and 4 maybe the plaintiffs -- maybe the company didn't 5 know, but that's why it's a misrepresentation when 6 they said that they did know what the number was or 7 should -- what a reasonable projection was that 8 supported a value of $3.8 billion for the 9 enterprise.

10 I mean, if -- if investors knew they were 11 being asked to invest in an extremely risky project 12 where the people managing the project didn't even 13 know themselves what it was worth or how much oil 14 it would produce, they would -- if they knew that,
15 they certainly would not have paid the valuation
16 that was arrived at or derived from assumptions
17 that they did know and that it was highly 18 productive.

19 Q. All right. So in that answer you
20 mentioned the term "derisk."

21 A. Yeah.

22 Q. What does that mean?

23 A. Well, I've seen it used a number of 24 different ways in the documents in this case, and 25 they -- wildcatting is risky, you know. You start

[PAGES INTENTIONALLY OMITTED]

1 of the company --

2 Q. But I'm --

3 A. -- which is -- which is about the guidance
4 and things related to it.

5 Q. Sorry. I didn't mean to interject there.

6 A. Guidance, yeah, about the guidance and 7 things related to it.

8 Q. So let's -- again, let's just focus on 9 the -- the guidance for Alta Mesa's barrels of oil
10 equivalent per day.

11 A. Okay.

12 Q. How much of the -- of the $1.33 residual 13 price decline on August 14th, 2018, is attributable
14 to Alta Mesa's revised guidance as it concerns
15 barrels of oil per day for 2018?

16 A. When you say the "revised guidance," do 17 you also mean the trustworthiness of the company's 18 projections about revising guidance? Because I do.

19 Q. So I'm asking specifically about the 20 numbers that were disclosed that day.

21 A. Right. The numbers disclosed that day
22 informed the marketplace better about the company's 23 condition and capabilities, which included how 24 trustworthy the company was and what sort of a --
25 and the quality of the due diligence that went into

Page 178

1 arriving at the guidance in the first place.

2 I mean, maybe we're misunderstanding each
3 other because, as a financial analyst, I understand 4 that the numbers tell a story, and so it's the 5 story and the number that produce the change in 6 valuation, not just the number, ignoring the story
7 that the number tells.

8 Q. Okay. Yeah.

9 So are the August 20 -- are the 10 projections, the -- the guidance that was issued 11 on -- on August 14th, 2018, is that also an alleged 12 misstatement in this case?

13 A. My understanding is plaintiffs are 14 alleging that this number was known by the company
15 to be unreliable and -- and overstated. The 16 revised -- we're talking about the revised number,
17 the revision from August 8 -- produced for AMH on 18 August 14th; right? That's what we're talking
19 about? Yeah, the plaintiffs believe that number 20 was misrepresented and was a misrepresentation and 21 reflected omissions about what went into that 22 number.

23 Q. Okay. And when was the -- when was -- so
24 when were the statements in the August 2018
25 guidance corrected?
